NOT ENOUGH MONEY TO PAY THE MILITIA

Special to The Chronicle.
 Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 14.—The appropriation made by the last Legislature for the pay and expenses of State troops ordered out on duty has been exhausted. Only $2,500 is available for this year and the two trips of the militia to Cumming during the recent disturbances there have, it is estimated by Adjutant General W. G. O'Neal, cost about this amount.

Expenses and pay of the troops which are and have been on duty at Augusta during the street car strike in that city will, it is believed, exceed $3,000. In addition to the cost incurred for keeping troops at Cumming during the strike, the expenses of the Augusta county militia must be met from the riot fund.

And the end is not yet. Troops are still on duty at Augusta and there may be other riots before the end of the year. In making the riot appropriation the Legislature provided that $2,500 should be available for 1912 and $2,500 available in January, 1913. Already the 1912 appropriation has been used, and that for next year anticipated.

None of the money has yet been actually paid out, as the adjutant general has not completed an audit and consolidation of the accounts. He has, however, ascertained that expenses for more than the $2,500 for this year have been incurred and has filed a requisition with the executive department for this amount.

Those expenditures which cannot be met until the appropriation will probably be held over until January, when another $2,500 will be available. If there is then a deficit it will have to be covered for by the Legislature next summer.

CARDINAL COMMENTS TUBERCULOSIS MOVEMENT

Calls Upon Clergymen to Observe Tuberculosis Day.

New York, Oct. 14.—In connection with the campaign for the observance of Tuberculosis Day, the Rev. Cardinal Farley has written a letter to Frank H. Mann, secretary of the New York Committee on the Prevention of Tuberculosis, which is made public today. In which he commends the good work being done in the educational campaign against consumption in New York City and throughout the country and urges clergymen and others to take part in the anti-tuberculosis movement.

Cardinal Farley's letter is a part of his plan to secure the observance of Tuberculosis Day every year on the 27th of his diocese. The cardinal will send a letter to each priest under his supervision calling upon him to bring the subject of tuberculosis to the attention of his parishioners, and to preach against tuberculosis. The following is the full text of the letter:

"Cardinal's Residence,

 "Prevention of Tuberculosis,
 "Dear Sir:—I am very much impressed last year by the statement you presented in regard to the ravages of tuberculosis and by the splendid results which your society attained in checking this fell destroyer of human lives.

FINGER PRINTS MAY COST THEM LIBERTY

George Roberts and Clem Hanney. St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 14.—By the prints of fingers left in half a dozen places on various post office safes in little inland towns of Illinois and Iowa the federal authorities hope to convict George Roberts and Clem Hanney of some of the most puzzling robberies which have occurred recently in the Middle West. Roberts and Hanney were arrested here after Hanney recognized two detectives and tried to dodge them by going out of the side door of a saloon. Roberts was arrested soon afterwards. Post office inspectors say that the two men are desperate yeggmen and extra precautions being taken pending their preliminary hearing in the federal court on October 21st.

The men were under surveillance at Peoria, Ill., when they suddenly disappeared. Then the post office safe at Bluff Springs, Ill., was robbed. A posse of three which captured the two robbers had the tables suddenly turned on it when one of the prisoners drew a revolver and got the drop on the officers. Soon afterwards, post offices at Macksburg, Ia., Rosendale, Mo., and a number of little inland towns were robbed. In three of these instances the post office inspectors found fingerprints left by the robbers. They were carefully photographed and saved. And they were found to coincide with those of Roberts and Hanney when they were arrested here. In addition to this the authorities claim to have enough evidence to convict the men of a number of these safe robberies. They are held now on warrants charging them with the Bluffs Springs and Macksburg robberies. Both have previous records for the same offenses.

"Great Moral Institution" at the Foot of the Bridge Reaps a Rich Harvest Out of a Time of Trouble in Community.

Despite the fact that official request was made upon Governor Blease, of South Carolina, to order the dispensary just across the river closed, the North Augusta branch of the "Great Moral Institution of the Palmetto State" continues to do business at the same old stand—at the foot of the bridge.

Liberal confessions are being made under military jurisdiction, as rapidly as bearers of the "Palmetto brand containers" get within the scope of Georgia's boundary—but the trade goes right along.

TWO MEN ARRESTED FOR FIRING ON STREET CAR

The men who are alleged to have shot at a street car while standing on their back piazza, Sunday afternoon, were arrested by the police department yesterday, and turned over to the military authorities. They are J. E. Cadie and W. R. DeMore and are lodged in jail and are being held without bond. The arresting officers were Private H. E. Akin, Detective Bagby, Sergeant Grubbs and Lieutenant Britt.

Several shots were fired at the street car, two being found. One was through a fence palling and the other was on the limb of a tree. W. R. DeMore was arrested before J. E. Cadie.

When the firing was heard people in the vicinity thought it was the trade going right along.

VERY FEW IN JAIL AS COURT OPENED

Judge Shipp, in His Charge to Edgfield Grand Jury Said He Took it to Mean County is Behaving.

Special to The Chronicle.
 Edgfield, S. C., Oct. 14.—Court convened here this morning, with Judge S. W. G. Shipp presiding. A large number of witnesses for the state in all cases failed to answer to their names, which made the start slow and tedious. Solicitor George Bell Timmerman called the attention of the court to the above fact, stating that always at Edgfield he met with the same trouble, and he was fortunate if a few witnesses appeared on time. He asked the court to dock the pay of all delinquent witnesses for one day as a punishment for their tardiness, saying that he would keep a list of them for that purpose. Judge Shipp consented to grant the request and issued a number of bench warrants for absent witnesses.

The charge of the judge was short but pointed. He said that when he was informed that only several prisoners were in jail he had to note the evidence of the fact that crime in this county was on the decrease; but he was disappointed when he was informed by the solicitor of the number of bills, including several cases of murder, that were to be handed to the grand jury. It seemed to be impossible to start crime, but he noticed that throughout the state that jurors were more inclined to punish crime. He thought that they were beginning to show that those matters, and that they are doing their best to suppress crime and homicides by their verdicts.

It was a good sign to see jurors doing that, where the state made out good cases, but he said he had noticed the press crime. After telling the jury of the scope of his authority, and after mentioning several important matters to be taken up, he took up the all-important matter of our public schools. He told the jury that, above all things, it should look into the way in which our public schools are being conducted, and to especially see that good teachers were employed. That the constitution of 1868 provided for all children to have an opportunity to get an education, and that when we were able to run our schools for six months, that compulsory education should follow. The average time now was five months, and he called attention to the fact that more negro children were attending school per capita than white children, which he said was a good showing for the whites. He thought that was a serious matter, and renewed efforts should be made throughout the state for better teachers, better schools, and a better attendance. That such efforts were being successfully made in some counties. He could not speak as to Edgfield not having the proper data before him. He thought that the people were becoming aroused to the situation and that good results would follow. He urged the jury to do the best they could for the county, and to give attention to the public schools.

On account of the absence of witnesses for the state, it was a hard time to start crime, but he noticed that throughout the state that jurors were more inclined to punish crime. FIGHTING HOOKWORM IN LEXINGTON COUNTY

Five Free Dispensaries for Treatment of Disease Opened by State Board of Health and County Authorities.

Special to The Chronicle.
 Lexington, S. C., Oct. 14.—The fight on the hookworm in this county is being waged to a finish, and everywhere the people are becoming more and more interested in the dispensaries which are being opened in Lexington county, working in conjunction with the state board of health and Dr. Riser, the expert in charge of the work in this county, was kept busy Saturday from the time the dispensary opened, early in the morning, until the close in the afternoon, more than sixty persons having appeared for examination. Of this number the greater portion is said to be affected with the disease. It seems to be a fact, however, that the children are affected to a greater degree than are the adults of either sex.

Those who began the treatment a week ago when the first dispensary was opened are showing some improvement, although it takes several courses of treatment to effect a permanent cure.

Of the five dispensaries in this county, the dispensary at Pelton, on the Perry extension of the Southern, is said to be attracting more attention than any other in the county. On the first day that the dispensary was open at that point more than eighty cases were examined.

GET RID OF RHEUMATISM

Rubbing with liniments, blistering the affected parts, plasters, etc., are usually helpful in relieving the pains and aches of Rheumatism, but such treatment does not get rid of the disease, because it does not reach its source. Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the blood. This acid circulating through the system acts as an irritant to the nerves, muscles and joints, and produces the inflammation and swelling, and sharp cutting pains characteristic of the trouble. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic and not only a painful but a dangerous disease. S. S. S., the greatest vegetable remedy, goes into the circulation, neutralizes and removes the uric acid, and by building up the thin, sour blood, safely and surely cures the disease. S. S. S. makes rich, nourishing blood, which quiets excited nerves, eases the painful muscles and joints and filters out every particle of irritating uric acid from the system. Special to The Chronicle.
 Charleston, S. C., Oct. 14.—The fall term of the United States district court for the western district of South Carolina convenes tomorrow at Greenville. Both civil and criminal business will be disposed of by the court.

In the absence of Judge Smith, who is presiding at the Baltimore term of court, Judge Rose of that court will preside over the session at Greenville. The docket is not large or important. The usual goodly number of violations of 3,242, selling liquor without having paid the government tax will be heard, giving Judge Rose a somewhat different line of cases from those that he has been having in the district of Maryland.

SUMMER COLDS COME FROM A TORPID LIVER

Active Liver Keeps the Head Clear and the Smile Cheerful

When the Liver Gets Lazy the Blood Thickens and the System Becomes Easily Susceptible to Cold and Disease.

The summer cold is directly traceable to an inactive liver. You get overheated and cool off too suddenly; the pores of the skin become closed, the blood recedes from the surface of the body and a congestion is produced. The same condition follows when you sit in a draft, or get wet. The liver finds its efforts overcome by pressure of the blood, and food remains in the stomach or bowels. The head gets hot, the feet cold and the bowels constipated. First then and there is the danger signal. The bowels must be kept open. The system must be relieved of congestion.

JACOBS' LIVER SALT is the greatest known relief. It is better than cathartics; it will rejuvenate the liver, send the blood racing through the veins, dispel the congestion and make you feel as if life is worth living.

JACOBS' LIVER SALT is a kindly and mildly, and never gives rise to nausea. Don't take an inferior substitute. Some stores may offer other preparations upon which they make larger profits, often similar in name, but very different in action. Made by Jacobs' Pharmacy Co., Atlanta, Ga. If your druggist cannot supply you, he will be sent by mail. (Postage 15c additional.) Large Jar 25c. For sale by all druggists.—(Advertisement).
